
Renewable curtailment is negligible for every archetype (at most 0.0 MWh/year) -- the network is congested but not curtailing renewables.