
The model does not collapse emissions, market payments, avoided heat emissions, and social damage into one private-credit claim.